

Dee Payne

From: Lord Nelson Victory Tugs [LNVTugs@q.com]
Sent: Wednesday, April 21, 2010 12:55 PM
To: Gary Mullard
Subject: Question regarding your tug

Hi Gary,

I was looking at Raven on the wiki site and it lists only you as the owner. Are you the original owner? Do you have names and dates on previous owners?

Thanks, we are trying to update information. Have you looked at the wiki? It is even easier now - just type in www.lnvt.org.

Macy

4/21 Hi Macy, I bought the boat from John Colver in Belvedere, Ca. He was a member of the oldest Yacht Club in Calif. The Corinthian Yacht Club. John owned a number of sail boats over the years, but he loved his Victory Tug boat. He finally realized he had one to many to take care of. He bought the boat from someone that moved it in the Sacramento river delta and let it deteriorate over the course of many years. John had a lot of work done on the boat in a San Rafael yard and it was a very nice boat when I purchased it. My files are in Anacortes and I can give you the purchase date if you wished. I move the boat to Lake Centon where I had lots of top grades done, then in 2000 moved her to Anacortes where the top grades and fine details that I wanted and general maintenance was kept up. You know how that is with boats and about anything else that is worth owning. I have a new Customer in Port Oriskany that I need to call on in the near future and will call to see if you are home. I travel a lot, but I plan on spending more time in wa. this year. Thanks for all of your help.

Sincerely, Gary Mullard

4/21/2010